The BRITISH ARCHITECT, or, the builder's treasury of stair-cases, containing, 1. An easier, more intelligible, and expeditious method of drawing the FIVE ORDERS than has hitherto been published, by a scale of twelve equal parts, free from those troublesome divisions called aliquot parts. Shewing also how to glue up their COLUMNS and CAPITALS. —— 2. Likewise STAIR-CASES (the most useful, ornamental, and necessary parts of a building, though never before sufficiently described in any book ancient or modern); shewing their most convenient situation, and the form of their ascending in the most grand manner: with a great variety of curious ornaments, whereby any gentleman may fix on what will suit him best, there being examples of all kinds; and necessary directions for such persons as are unacquainted with that branch. —— 3. Designs of ARCHES, DOORS and WINDOWS. —— 4. A great variety of new and curious CHIMNEY PIECES, in the most elegant and modern taste. —— 5. CORBELLS, SHIELDS, and other beautiful decorations. —— 6. Several useful and necessary RULES of CARFENTRY; with the manner of TRUSS'D ROOFS, and the nature of a splay'd circular SOFFIT, both in a straight and circular wall, never published before: together with raking cornishes, groins and angle brackets described. The whole being illustrated with upwards of one hundred designs and examples, curiously engraven by the best hands, on sixty copper plates. By Abraham Swan, architect. Folio, 15s sewed.

A COLLECTION of DESIGNS in ARCHITECTURE, containing new plans and elevations of houses for general use; with a great variety of sections for ROOMS, from a common room to the most grand and magnificent. Their decorations, viz. bases, surbases, architraves, freezes, and cornices, properly enriched with foliages, frets, and flowers, in a new and grand taste, with margins and mouldings for the pannelling, all large enough for the practice. By the same author. To which are added, curious designs of stone and timber bridges, extending from twenty feet to two hundred and twenty in one arch. Likewise some screens and pavilions. Curiously engrav'd on 120 copper plates, in two volumes folio, bound together, 1l 16s.
